About Me

Original Work

My name is Caio Augusto Delfini, my nickname in social networks and artistic name is Caio AD. I am an illustrator who loves to draw and learn new techniques, currently I work as a marketing assistant in a small company in my city.

I am creative, a simple person, I love working in team and responsible.

My current focus is games designs, mainly characters, I'm starting out in this business as a beginner, but I hope to become well known in the future.
